TROTTER BRINGS MESSAGE OF HOPE

Minister Saved by Rescue Mission Describes Great Work for Mankind.

Despite the rain, an audience which packed Grace Street Baptist Church to the doors greeted Rev. Melville Trotter last night for the second of a series of lectures of the Bible conference.

The audience was prepared to hear an address on entirely different lines from that of Dr. Morgan, but it was not prepared for the startling and unconventional message of the speaker.

Back of the message is a virile, absorbing passion to reach and save human beings who have lost hope and the respect of their fellow beings.

Mr. Trotter is a monumental example of the power of the gospel to reach to the very depths and transform wrecked manhood into a marvelous messenger of hope. The simple recital of his rescue through a worker in a rescue mission when he was on his way to the lake to commit suicide was a profoundly moving recital.

His appeal to Christians for a life of devoted service was one of the strongest ever heard in Richmond. His whole life is now given to the establishing and maintaining rescue missions, and in more than forty cities he has established places of hope and help for the hopeless.

Mr. Trotter travels 50,000 miles a year in his work, and raises $20,000 annually to support the missions he has established.

To-night the address will be delivered by another great English preacher and Bible teacher, Dr. William Souper, of London. He is an outstanding champion of a sound interpretation of the Bible, and his books mark him as one of the world's great scholars.

Rev. Souper, pastor of Clapham Commons Presbyterian Church, of London, England, is a man who puts into a fifty-minute address the equivalent of ten classroom lectures, and he does it in a way which holds his audience from the beginning to the end. Rev. Souper is a teacher, as well as a preacher. He is now given to the climbing the sunny side of the hill, he has achieved a position in theological circles which has been won by few men.

The meetings begin with a song service at 7:45, led by Fred E. Trotter, who was for four years with Dr. Chapman. The rising tide of interest in the Bible is now given to the remaining speakers.

Dr. John McNeill will be heard on Tuesday night, Nov. 18. Dr. Gordon will speak on Friday night.

SEAY EXPLAINS CURRENCY ACT

Tells American Institute of Banking What Reserve Bank Means to Richmond.

The details of operation of the new Federal currency law were explained to Richmond Chapter, American Institute of Banking, last night by George J. Seay, at a well-attended meeting of the chapter held at the Business Men's Club. Mr. Seay, invited general discussion, and many of the members asked questions that cleared up points not before clearly understood.

Mr. Seay went especially into what it would mean to Richmond to be designated as one of the Federal reserve centers, under the new law. He pointed out the Potomac River to the Gulf, with Richmond, one of its largest cities, and the point nearest to the money centers of the North, as the location of its regional bank. He calculated that the banks in the territory proposed to be embraced in this area would under the new law contribute a sufficient amount to make the capital of the regional bank $4,000,000, that the deposits of member banks would aggregate $15,000,000, while the government's deposit would average about $9,000,000, giving the reserve bank total resources of $28,000,000, which would mean an expansion of the credit limit by about $7,500,000.

Mr. Seay estimated that the paid-in capital stock of all the Federal reserve banks, of which there may be from eight to ten in the Federal reserve act, will be about $25,000,000, with deposits aggregating $22,000,000.

A number of questions were asked to bring out the views of the speaker on the result to the banking business to the district should the natural current of trade be reversed and the reserve bank for this district be located elsewhere. The whole subject is one of close expert study, and he is preparing to file further information with the organization committee when it returns from its Western tour.

NORMAL ALUMNAE START CHAPTER

Graduates of Farmville School Organize to Urge Cause of Education.

A Richmond Chapter of the Farmville Division, State Normal School Alumnae, has been organized in this city through the efforts of Mrs. A. P. Montague, president of the State Normal Alumnae Federation, and Secretary Otella Harvie, of the Farmville Division. There are more than 100 alumnae of the State Normal School at Farmville in Richmond, and the chapter makes a strong start. The officers chosen are: Mrs. Ernest Shaw, president; Miss Sarah Pritchett, vice-president; Mrs. Pollard English, secretary; Miss Lucy Wood, treasurer, and Miss Elizabeth Brook, organizer and reporter.

The following honorary members have been elected: Miss Martha W. Coulling, Miss Lula Phillips and George C. Hays.

The chapter agreed upon its organization to women through the normal school system and for all preparation for professional teaching which may be required, from kindergarten through high school work. The Farmville Alumnae Division, with a membership of 1,000 members, is the largest of its kind in the country.

At the organization meeting Mrs. Montague mapped out the lines of activity for the coming year. The chief problem facing the alumnae federation is the completion of the "Cunningham Memorial Fund," she said.
